ALIYAHU
(ELIJAH)

The Apocalypse of AliYAHU (Elijah)

Chapter 1

1 The word of אלהים came to me saying, "ban of man, say to His people, 'Why do you add sin to your sins and anger אלהים ALmighty Who created you?'"

2 Don't love the world or the things which are in the world, for the boasting of the world and its destruction belong to the devil.

3 Remember that אלהים of esteem, Who created everything, had mercy upon you so that He might save us from the captivity of this age.

4 For many times the devil desired not to let the sun rise above the earth and not to let the earth yield fruit, since he desires to consume men like a fire which rages in stubble, and he desires to swallow them like water.

5 Therefore, on account of this, אלהים of esteem had mercy upon us, and He sent His Ban to the world so that He might save us from the captivity.

6 He did not inform a malak or an arch-malak or any principality when He was about to come to us, but He changed Himself to be like a man when He was about to come to us so that He might save us from flesh.

7 Therefore become baniym to Him since He is an ABaH to you.

8 Remember that He has prepared thrones and crowns for you in shamayim, saying, "Everyone who will obey Me will receive thrones and crowns among those who are Mine."

9 אלהים said, "I will write My name upon their forehead and I will seal their right hand, and they will not hunger or thirst.

10 Neither will the ban of lawlessness prevail over them, nor will the thrones hinder them, but they will walk with the malakiym up to My city."

11 Now as for the sinners, they will be shamed and they will not pass by the thrones, but the thrones of death will seize them and rule over them because the malakiym will not agree with them.

12 They have alienated themselves from His dwellings.

13 Hear, O wise men of the land, concerning the deceivers who will multiply in the last times so that they will place down for themselves doctrines which do not belong to אלהים, placing aside the Law of אלהים, those who have made their belly their mighty one, saying, "The fast does not exist, nor did אלהים create it," making themselves strangers to the covenant of אלהים and robbing themselves of the esteemed promises.

14 Now these are not ever correctly established in the firm belief. Therefore don't let those people lead you astray.

15 Remember that from the time when He created the shamayim, אֱלֹהִים created the fast for a benefit to men on account of the passions and desires which fight against you so that the evil will not inflame you.

16 "But it is a pure fast which I have created," said אֱלֹהִים.

17 The one who fasts continually will not sin although jealousy and strife are within him.

18 Let the pure one fast, but whenever the one who fasts is not pure He has angered אֱלֹהִים and also the malakiym.

19 And he has grieved his being, gathering up wrath for himself for the day of wrath.

20 But a pure fast is what I created, with a pure heart and pure hands.

21 It releases sin. It heals diseases. It casts out demons.

22 It is effective up to the throne of אֱלֹהִים for an ointment and for a release from sin by means of a pure petition.

23 Who among you, if he is honored in his craft, will go forth to the field without a tool in his hand? Or who will go forth to the battle to fight without a breastplate on?

24 If he is found, will he not be killed because he despised the service of the King?

25 Likewise no one is able to enter the consecrated place if he is double minded.

26 The one who is double minded in his petition is darkness to himself. And even the malakiym do not trust him.

27 Therefore be single-minded in אֱלֹהִים at all times so that you might know every moment.

Chapter 2

1 Furthermore, concerning the kings of Assyria and the dissolution of the shamayim and the earth and the things beneath the earth.

2 "Now therefore those who are Mine will not be overcome" says אֱלֹהִים, "nor will they fear in the battle."

3 When they see a king who rises in the north, who will be called the king of Assyria and the king of injustice, he will increase his battles and his disturbances against Egypt.

4 The land will groan together because your children will be seized.

5 Many will desire death in those days, but death will flee from them.

6 And a king who will be called the king of shalum will rise up in the west.

7 He will run upon the sea like a roaring lion.

8 He will kill the king of injustice, and he will take vengeance on Egypt with battles and much bloodshed.

9 It will come to pass in those days that he will command a shalum and a vain gift in Egypt.

10 He will give shalum to these who are consecrated, saying, "The name of אֱלֹהִים is one."

11 He will give honors to the consecrated ones and an exalting to the places of the consecrated ones.

12 He will give vain gifts to the house of אֱלֹהִים.

13 He will wander around in the cities of Egypt with guile, without their knowing.

14 He will take count of the consecrated places. He will weigh the idols of the heathen. He will take count of their wealth. He will establish leaders for them.

15 He will command that the wise men and the great ones of the people be seized, and they will be brought to the metropolis which is by the sea, saying, "There is but one language."

16 But when you hear, "Shalum and joy exist," I will...

17 Now I will tell you His signs so that you might know Him.

18 For he has two banium: one on his right and one on his left.

19 The one on his right will receive a demonic face, and he will fight against the name of אֱלֹהִים.

20 Now four kings will descend from that king.

21 In his thirtieth year he will come up to Memphis, and he will build a temple in Memphis.

22 On that day his own ban will rise up against him and kill him.

23 The whole land will be disturbed.

24 On that day he will issue an order over the whole land so that the leaders of the land and all of the consecrated ones will be seized, saying, "You will repay doubly every gift and all of the good things which My ABaH gave to you."

25 He will shut up the consecrated places. He will take their houses. He will take their banium prisoner.

26 He will order and sacrifices and abominations and bitter evils will be done in the land.

27 He will appear before the sun and the moon.

28 On that day the leaders of the land will tear their clothes.

29 Woe to you, O rulers of Egypt, in those days because your day has passed.

30 The violence being done to the poor will turn against you, and your children will be seized as plunder.

31 In those days the cities of Egypt will groan for the voice of the one who sells and the one who buys will not be heard. The markets of the cities of Egypt will become dusty.

32 Those who are in Egypt will weep together. They will desire death, but death will flee and leave them.

33 In those days, they will run up to the rocks and leap off, saying, "Fall upon us." And still they will not die.

34 A double affliction will multiply upon the whole land.

35 In those days, the king will command, and all the nursing women will be seized and brought to him bound. They will suckle serpents. And their blood will be drawn from their breasts, and it will be applied as poison to the arrows.

36 On account of their distress of the cities, he will command again, and all the young lads from twelve years and under will be seized and presented in order to teach them to shoot arrows.

37 The midwife who is upon the earth will grieve. The woman who has given birth will lift her eyes to shamayim, saying, "Why did I sit upon the birthstool, to bring forth a ban to the earth?"

38 The barren woman and the virgin will rejoice, saying, "It is our time to rejoice, because we have no child upon the earth, but our children are in shamayim."

39 In those days, three kings will arise among the Persians, and they will take captive the Yahudiym who are in Egypt. They will bring them to Yarushalayim, and they will inhabit it and dwell there.

40 Then when you hear that there is security in Yarushalayim, tear your garments, O leaders of the land, because the ban of perdition will soon come.

41 In those days, the lawless one will appear in the consecrated places.

42 In those days the kings of the Persians will hasten and they will stand to fight with the kings of Assyria. Four kings will fight with three.

43 They will spend three years in that place until they carry off the wealth of the temple which is in that place.

44 In those days, blood will flow from Kos to Memphis. The river of Egypt will become blood, and they will not be able to drink from it for three days.

45 Woe to Egypt and those who are in it.

46 In those days, a king will arise in the city which is called "the city of the sun," and the whole land will be disturbed. He will flee to Memphis with the Persians.

47 In the sixth year, the Persian kings will plot an ambush in Memphis. They will kill the Assyrian king.

48 The Persians will take vengeance on the land, and they will command to kill all the heathen and the lawless ones. They will command to build the temples of the consecrated ones.

49 They will give double gifts to the house of אֱלֹהִים. They will say, "The name of אֱלֹהִים is one."

50 The whole land will hail the Persians.

51 Even the remnant, who did not die under the afflictions, will say, "אֱלֹהִים has sent us a righteous king so that the land will not become a desert."

52 He will command that no royal matter be presented for three years and six months. The land will be full of good in an abundant well-being.

53 Those who are alive will go to those who are dead, saying, "Rise up and be with us in this rest."

Chapter 3

1 In the fourth year of that king, the ban of lawlessness will appear, saying, "I am the Anointed," although he is not. Don't believe him!

2 When the Anointed comes, He will come in the manner of a covey of doves with the crown of doves surrounding Him. He will walk upon the shamayim vaults with the sign of the cross leading Him.

3 The whole world will behold Him like the sun which shines from the eastern horizon to the western.

4 This is how He will come, with all His malakiym surrounding Him.

5 But the ban of lawlessness will begin to stand again in the consecrated places.

6 He will say to the sun, "Fall," and it will fall. He will say, "Shine," and it will do it. He will say, "Darken," and it will do it.

7 He will say to the moon, "Become bloody," and it will do it.

8 He will go forth with them from the sky. He will walk upon the sea and the rivers as upon dry land.

9 He will cause the lame to walk. He will cause the deaf to hear. He will cause the dumb to speak. He will cause the blind to see.

10 The lepers he will cleanse. The ill he will heal. The demons he will cast out.

11 He will multiply his signs and his wonders in the presence of everyone.

12 He will do the works which the ^{וְיָצֵא} did, except for raising the dead alone.

13 In this you will know that he is the ban of lawlessness, because he is unable to give life.

14 For behold I will tell you his signs so that you might know him.

15 He is a ...of a skinny-legged young lad, having a tuft of gray hair at the front of his bald head. His eyebrows will reach to his ears. There is a leprous bare spot on the front of his hands.

16 He will transform himself in the presence of those who see him. He will become a young child. He will become old.

17 He will transform himself in every sign. But the signs of his head will not be able to change.

18 Therein you will know that he is the ban of lawlessness.

Chapter 4

1 The virgin, whose name is Tabitha, will hear that the shameless one has revealed himself in the consecrated places. And she will put on her garment of fine linen.

2 And she will pursue him up to Judea, scolding him up to Yarushalayim, saying, "O shameless one, O ban of lawlessness, O you who have been hostile to all the consecrated ones."

3 Then the shameless one will be angry at the virgin. He will pursue her up to the regions of the sunset. He will suck her blood in the evening.

4 And he will cast her upon the temple, and she will become a healing for the people.

5 She will rise up at dawn. And she will live and scold him, saying, "O shameless one, you have no power against my being or my body, because I live in ^{וְיָצֵא} always."

6 "And also my blood which you have cast upon the temple has become a healing for the people."

7 Then when AliYAHU and Chanok hear that the shameless one has revealed himself in the consecrated place, they will come down and fight with him saying,

8 "Are you indeed not ashamed? When you attach yourself to the consecrated ones, because you are always estranged."

9 "You have been hostile to those who belong to shamayim. You have acted against those belonging to the earth."

10 "You have been hostile to the thrones. You have acted against the malakiym. You are always a stranger."

11 "You have fallen from shamayim like the morning stars. You were changed, and your tribe became dark for you."

12 "But you are not ashamed, when you stand firmly against אֱלֹהִים You are a devil."

13 The shameless one will hear and he will be angry, and he will fight with them in the market place of the great city. And he will spend seven days fighting with them.

14 And they will spend three and one half days in the market place dead, while all the people see them.

15 But on the fourth day they will rise up and they will scold him saying, "O shameless one, O ban of lawlessness. Are you indeed not ashamed of yourself since you are leading astray the people of אֱלֹהִים for whom you did not suffer? Do you not know that we live in אֱלֹהִים?"

16 As the words were spoken, they prevailed over him, saying, "Furthermore, we will lay down before the flesh for the breath, and we will kill you since you are unable to speak on that day because we are always strong in אֱלֹהִים. But you are always hostile to אֱלֹהִים."

17 The shameless one will hear, and he will be angry and fight them.

18 And the whole city will surround them.

19 On that day they will shout up to shamayim as they shine while all the people and all the world see them.

20 The ban of lawlessness will not prevail over them. He will be angry at the land, and he will seek to sin against the people.

21 He will pursue all of the consecrated ones. They and the leaders of the land will be brought back bound.

22 He will kill them and destroy them. And their eyes will be removed with iron spikes.

23 He will remove their skin from their heads. He will remove their nails one by one. He will command that vinegar and lime be put in their nose.

24 Now those who are unable to bear up under the tortures of that king will take gold and flee over the fords to the desert places. They will lie down as one who sleeps.

25 אֱלֹהִים will receive their breaths and their beings to Himself.

26 Their flesh will petrify. No wild animals will eat them until the last day of the great judgment.

27 And they will rise up and find a place of rest. But they will not be in the kingdom of מַלְאָכִים as those who have endured because אֱלֹהִים said, "I will grant to them that they sit on My right hand."

28 They will receive favor over others, and they will triumph over the ban of lawlessness. And they will witness the dissolution of shamayim and earth.

29 They will receive the thrones of esteem and the crowns.

30 The sixty righteous ones who are prepared for this hour will hear.

31 And they will gird on the breastplate of אֱלֹהִים, and they will run to Yarushalayim and fight with the shameless one, saying, "All powers which the messengers have done from the beginning you have done. But you were unable to raise the dead because you have no power to give life. Therein we have known that you are the ban of lawlessness."

32 He will hear, and he will be angry and command to kindle altars.

33 And the righteous ones will be bound. They will be lifted up and burned.

Chapter 5

1 And on that day the heart of many will harden and they will flee from him, saying, "This is not the Anointed. The Anointed does not kill the righteous. He does not pursue men so that He might seek them, but He persuades them with signs and wonders."

2 On that day the מַלְאָכִים will pity those who are His own. And He will send from shamayim His sixty-four thousand malakiym, each of whom has six wings.

3 The sound will move shamayim and earth when they give esteem and esteem.

4 Now those upon whose forehead the name of מַלְאָכִים is written and upon whose hand is the seal both the small and the great, will be taken up upon their wings and lifted up before His wrath.

5 Then GabriAL and UriAL will become a pillar of light leading them into the consecrated land.

6 It will be granted to them to eat from the tree of life. They will wear white garments...and malakiym will watch over them. They will not thirst, nor will the ban of lawlessness be able to prevail over them.

7 And on that day the earth will be disturbed, and the sun will darken, and shalum will be removed from the earth.

8 The birds will fall on the earth, dead.

9 The earth will be dry. The waters of the sea will dry up.

10 The sinners will groan upon the earth saying, "What have you done to us, O ban of lawlessness, saying I am the Anointed, when you are the devil?"

11 "You are unable to save yourself so that you might save us. You produced signs in our presence until you alienated us from the Anointed Who created us. Woe to us because we listened to you."

12 "Lo now we will die in a famine. Where indeed is now the trace of a righteous one and we will worship Him, or where indeed is the one who will teach us and we will appeal to Him."

13 "Now indeed we will be wrathfully destroyed because we disobeyed אֱלֹהִים."

14 "We went to the deep places of the sea, and we did not find water. We dug in the rivers and papyrus reeds, and we did not find water."

15 Then on that day, the shameless one will speak, saying, "Woe to me because my time has passed by for me while I was saying that my time would not pass by for me."

16 "My years became months and my days have passed away as dust passes away. Now therefore I will perish together with you."

17 "Now therefore run forth to the desert. Seize the robbers and kill them."

18 "Bring up the consecrated ones. Because of them, the earth yields fruit. For because of them the sun shines upon the earth. For because of them the dew will come upon the earth."

19 The sinners will weep saying, "You made us hostile to אֱלֹהִים. If you are able, rise up and pursue them."

20 Then he will take his fiery wings and fly out after the consecrated ones. He will fight with them again.

21 The malakiym will hear and come down. They will fight with him a battle of many swords.

22 It will come to pass on that day that אֱלֹהִים will hear and command the shamayim and the earth with great wrath. And they will send for fire.

23 And the fire will prevail over the earth seventy-two cubits. It will consume the sinners and the devils like stubble.

24 A true judgment will occur.

25 On that day, the mountains and the earth will utter speech. The byways will speak with one another, saying, "Have you heard today the voice of a man who walks who has not come to the judgment of the Ban of אֱלֹהִים."

26 The sins of each one will stand against him in the place where they were committed, whether those of the day or of the night.

27 Those who belong to the righteous will see the sinners and those who persecuted them and those who handed them over to death in their torments.

28 Then the sinners in torment will see the place of the righteous.

29 And thus favor will occur. In those days, that which the righteous will ask for many times will be given to them.

30 On that day, אֱלֹהִים will judge the shamayim and the earth. He will judge those who transgressed in shamayim, and those who did so on earth.

31 He will judge the shepherds of the people. He will ask about the flock of sheep, and they will be given to Him, without any deadly guile existing in them.

32 After these things, AliYAHU and Chanok will come down. They will lay down the flesh of the world, and they will receive their incorruptible flesh. They will pursue the ban of lawlessness and kill him since he is not able to speak.

33 On that day, he will dissolve in their presence like ice which was dissolved by a fire. He will perish like a serpent which has no breath in it.

34 They will say to him, "Your time has passed by for you. Now therefore you and those who believe you will perish."

35 They will be cast into the bottom of the abyss and it will be closed for them.

36 On that day, מֶלֶךְ אֱלֹהִים, the King and all His consecrated ones will come forth from shamayim.

37 He will burn the earth. He will spend a thousand years upon it.

38 Because the sinners prevailed over it, He will create a new shamayim and a new earth. No deadly devil will exist in them.

39 He will rule with His consecrated ones, ascending and descending, while they are always with the malakiym and they are with 𐤌𐤓𐤕𐤌 for a thousand years.
